Ranchers and farmers and plenty of other Americans are upset with the past forty to sixty years of Federal intervention into how they operate on their respective States' lands. Americans are learning about what is behind the deliberate mismanagement of our lands – the Green movement in general, operating under the umbrella of the United Nations' "Agenda 21" program. The Federal government is increasingly seen as over-reaching and intrusive, or even worse.

A respectable body of western State legislators are working with a cool and calm but deliberate and effective approach to getting State lands back under control of the States. One of the leading voices in the quest for Constitutional justice for the States, who simply wish to reclaim their rights to own the lands within their borders, is Utah Representative Ken Ivory.

I would like to let our Oath Keepers in Wyoming, Idaho, and Montana know that Representative Ivory of the American Lands Council, working with Montana's Madison County Commissioner Dan Happel and friends, will address the Madison County Tea Party on May 22, 2014. I will be there and am inviting all Montana, Wyoming, and Idaho Oath Keepers who can be in Virginia City on that date to join me there. See flier below for details.

Salute!
