

Saturday, August 25, 2007

---

R.I.P. Aaron Russo - American Freedom Fighter

Aaron Russo, renegade film-maker, passed away yesterday. Aaron ran for governor here in Nevada, and then as the Libertarian presidential candidate. He could at times be gruff, and a bit rough around the edges, but I don't think anyone ever doubted the man's courage, conviction, passion for liberty, and his love for his country. Aaron was a staunch supporter of another man of courage, Congressman Ron Paul.

Aaron's last film was America: Freedom to Fascism, which he put up on googlevideo for free, because he wanted the American people to see it. You can still watch it there by clicking below. - Stewart

Posted by Stewart Rhodes at 5:35 PM

Labels: Aaron Russo, America freedom to fascism , Federal Reserve, Film, freedom, freedom to fascism, Libertarian, liberty, Ron Paul

Newer Post

Home

Older Post

Subscribe to: Post Comments \(Atom\)

