November 6, 2015

James Perloff does a great job of showing the power of the Council on Foreign Relations, and the history of those within, and surrounding, the CFR. Why should an organization of a few thousand people have this enormous power? Most people have no idea what it is, let alone how powerful it is. It is this ignorance of it, that allows them to hide in the background and manipulate public opinion to their goal, which is, and always has been, a One World Government.
