Army Airborne Veteran says to Keep fighting the good fight

Hello,

I served in the US Army from 81-94 (2nd ID, 41st FA Brigade, 197th Inf. Brigade, 3rd ID, 101st ABN Div) got out because I couldn't stand working for Clinton (Mr. don't ask, don't tell) aka "it's ok to be gay". Also, they told us that if we had admitted to having experimenting with marijuana before we joined, we could only get a secret clearance and not a top secret, and here was this loser going to be CINC after admitting that he had "experimented" with it. Obama, heck, don't even get me started.

I absolutely agree with all of your oaths. Can't think of anything to add or subtract from it. I only fear that the time may come soon that they will come into play. Good news from the House yesterday, that 65 democrats sent a letter to the Attourney General letting him know that they oppose completely any law prohibiting assault rifles. This is a big deal as that is enough to stop a bill from going through (with the Republicans). I got your link from over on the Patriotic Resistance site and just want to complement you on the work you are doing, cannot donate at this time, but I am completely with you on your objective.

Every one of my family lines go back to before 1820 in this country, I had 3 different forefathers who fought in the Revolution, most of them took bounty lands up in the mountains of NC, TN, near the Smokey Mtn Nat'l Park area. Very independent minded people. Just leave this long haired country boy lone", kind of people. Stay off my land, don't even think about touching my guns, don't reward people who do nothing at the cost of us who work, Ayn Rand was a genius (but an athiest), Christ is the center of my life, family next, country next. By country I mean the constitution and all it was intended to mean, Hamilton was also a genius in how he helped create and solidify the capitalist principles that help keep us free to succeed and not have to be ashamed for that success.

I personally, would be just as happy being a subsistence farmer, hunting and fishing and trading a little crops and hides for the other goods needed (which was what most of my forefathers living in the mountains did until after the civil war when taxes made it impossible).

I LOVE my gun collection.

Keep fighting the good fight, we are gaining momentum and our army of conservatives is growing faster each day. Let's keep working hard and keep the momentum rolling.

Never give up, never surrender!

Your brother in the good fight,
