April 19th from a Canadian Perspective

OATH KEEPERS!

Today is the 19th of April ... remembering "the shot that was heard around the world" back then ... it will be heard even louder today because we have so many more means to talk to each other over the internet and the gathering will shine in the hearts of all who cherish Life, Freedom and Liberty. More so ... those who stand proud, in uniform, will remind the people of WHO stands between them and harm ... I salute you all!

Americans have too much to be proud of to be humbled by the treasonous actions of a few ... people around the world know this and respect you ... even though they do not respect the politicians who claim to represent you.

I am a Canadian. I have spent a lot of time in YOUR country. America sneezes and Canada catches a cold ... and as much as I will always protect MY country, I will NOT accept your struggle now as inconsequential compared to the derivative harm that will happen to my own country!

Here (in Canada), we have had tooooooo many socialist (read Communist) "leaders" and our country has been systemically "dumbed down" over several generations. We, unlike YOU ... DO NOT have the benefit of a real or proper "constitution". You DO have a tangible Constitution from the people to the defined and LIMITED government ... your 'rights' and enforcement of those rights ARE the example to the world ...use them well.

So .. YOU have something REAL and TANGIBLE that YOU can and will stand behind and fight for if pushed to that point!

I remain your loving and devoted cousin up north ... We (here) ARE on your side!
