JEFERSON CITY, Mo. – Some Jefferson City citizens are calling for change after the mass shooting in Chattanooga.

At least 8 citizens and veterans posted themselves outside the Armed Forces Recruitment Center on Missouri Boulevard Monday.

All of them were carrying handguns claiming they are doing something the government can't do.

“I think it's up to us individuals to come and protect them because they're not being protected the way they should be,” said one of the demonstrators named Jim.

Right now in Missouri, recruitment officers are not allowed to carry guns.
