Dedicated Navy Veteran Honors Her Oath

My name is Nancy Armstrong. I am now a 100% disabled veteran but served my country in the United States Navy from 1979-1992. When I left the USN I was an ET1 (SW), a second generation sailor.

I swore to defend the Flag, the US Constitution and the country. It is unfortunate that I now have to defend all of these against the current government and president. I am sickened more each and every day as I watch the government doing end runs around our Constitution, one I believe in more today than ever.

I am reminded that our president said the US Constitution is no longer applicable to the country. It is my utter belief that the US Constitution is as viable today as ever. It is the very document that dictates the laws and values we live by.

Today I am willing to stand shoulder to shoulder with all to defend the country and our Constitution because it is a part of who I am.

It is important that we remind those currently serving that we have their "back".... I am proud to add my name to the Oath Keepers....
