Back From Layoff

OK, I'm back, so expect some more postings very soon on this poor, neglected blog. I just needed to take a break from the news, and commenting on it, for a while. It is all just so negative and absurd and sometimes you just need to step away for a bit and regain some perspective.

I didn't expect to take over a month off (where the hell did the time go?) but now I'm ready to dive back in. So expect some fire-breathing commentary soon.
