Be Sure to Use the New Site at Oathkeepers.org

www.oathkeepers.org

All,

Be sure to visit and comment on the testimonials at our new site, www.oathkeepers.org which will soon replace this blog.

All new testimonials, video, and articles will be posted at the new site. (we have some cool videos from July 4 events posted there!).

For the next week or so we will continue to post some duplicate posts here since so many folks are used to coming here, but after that transition period all new posts will be on the new site only and this blog will be retained as an archive, directing all visitors to the new site.

But please post your comments at the new site rather than here.
